Spikenard Green Organic Essential Oil

Product Details

Spikenard Green Organic Essential Oil derives its uniqueness from the Nardostachys jatamansi plant, primarily found in the majestic terrains of Nepal. This aromatic oil is crafted by steam distilling the wildcrafted, dried rhizomes of the plant. The resultant oil is a light yellow hue and carries a warm, inviting scent with a mildly earthy undertone. Known for its versatility, Spikenard Oil serves not only as a holistic remedy but also as a cherished component in perfumery for its fixative properties.

Country of Origin: Nepal

Farming Method: Certified Organic

Historical and Cultural Significance

Spikenard has been revered since ancient times for its spiritual and therapeutic properties. Historical references trace back to the Bible, where it is believed to have been used by Mary Magdalene for anointing. Traditionally, it has held a sacred position among various cultures, often used in religious rituals and incense.

Spikenard Green Organic Essential Oil can be utilized in various ways to harness its full spectrum of benefits:

Topical Application

Dilute up to 1% (5 drops per tablespoon of carrier oil) for skin application. Target areas prone to inflammation, rashes, or muscle tension for optimal relief.

Whole-body Massage

For a deeply relaxing experience, use the same dilution in a carrier oil for whole-body massages, focusing on areas stressed due to physical or emotional strain.

Aromatic Bath

Incorporate Spikenard into your bath routine by first diluting in bath salts or milk. This method is excellent for managing stress, anxiety, and muscle tension.

Diffusion

Add a few drops to a nebulizer or nasal inhaler to create a serene and calming environment. Ideal for promoting emotional and mental balance.

Aroma, Constituents, and Blending

Spikenard exudes a woody, earthy aroma, making it a versatile choice for blending with other essential oils. Popular oils for blending include Frankincense, Lavender, and Patchouli. Key constituents contributing to its therapeutic profile include Jatamansone and Valeranone, which are responsible for its calming and relaxing attributes.

Safety Precautions

While Spikenard Green Essential Oil is non-toxic and generally safe, it should always be used with care:

- 1. Always dilute before applying to the skin.
- 2. Avoid ingestion and use with caution in children.
- 3. Consult with a professional when using during pregnancy or for individuals with severe health conditions such as liver damage or epilepsy.
